

Al Naba group applauds His Majesty the Sultan at special National Day event

Al Naba Holding Co, one of Oman's largest business groups, observed the 45th National Day on November 18 with a special celebration that saw management and staff coming together to pay collective tribute to His Majesty Sultan Qaboos bin Said, the architect of Oman's modern Renaissance.

The chairman and founder of Al Naba Holding began the celebrations with a brief address that underscored the pivotal role played by His Majesty the Sultan in shepherding the nation to progress and prosperity.

Extending greetings on this momentous milestone, the chairman also applauded His Majesty the Sultan for his inspirational leadership that continues to fuel the glorious Renaissance that he ushered 45 years ago. The chairman also voiced heartfelt praise and gratitude to the Omani government for nurturing the growth of the private sector to enable it to play its full part in economic growth and national development. He hailed in particular the government's continuing support for efforts to involve young Omanis in nation building.

Addressing the large gathering, the chairman said, "On behalf of each one of you, I take this opportunity to wish His Majesty the Sultan good health and a long life, so he may continue to lead this Blessed Renaissance. I also extend heartfelt thanks to the government for its steadfast support to the private sector, which is evident from its continuing commitment to smoothing the way for Omani companies to play its full part in national development."

Today, Al Naba Group ranks as one of Oman's top corporate brands with over 9,000 employees and a geographical footprint that spans not only the length and breadth of the sultanate, but extends into the UAE, Saudi Arabia and Qatar as well.
